

Examples of SMART Learning Goals in a Variety of Practice Settings

Between April 2016 and March 2017, I will increase my knowledge of the change management process. I will increase this knowledge through peer discussions, book review and workshop participation.

Evaluation of Outcome: My practice will be affected in the following way... I will more effectively engage and support staff during the changes that take place in the workplace environment.

See page 7 of the CCP Tool Kit for the Learning Goal Development Worksheet.

Between April 2016 and March 2017, I will increase my understanding of food insecurity in Nova Scotia communities. I will increase this knowledge through peer collaboration and meeting with individuals within these communities.

Between April 2016 and March 2017, I will enhance my leadership skills. I will meet this goal through book review and workshop participation.

Between April 2016 and March 2017, I will increase my knowledge of best practices in primary care nutrition. I will complete this goal through Dietitians of Canada's Learning on Demand and a literature review.

Between April 2016 and March 2017, I will increase my understanding of the scopes of practice of the interprofessional primary health care team members with whom I practice.

Between April 2016 and March 2017, I will increase my understanding of the evidence on the impact of marketing on childhood behaviors. I will increase this knowledge through a literature review.

Between April 2016 and March 2017, I will enhance my media relations skills. I will meet this goal by participation in a workshop, peer review, and critical reflection on my practice.

Between April 2016 and March 2017, I will enhance my understanding of the legal requirements for record keeping. I will meet this goal through consultation with peers and a review of relevant legislation.

I will increase my knowledge of formula brands available in Canada to help guide mothers who are looking to supplement with formula or who have chosen not to breastfeed. I will increase this knowledge through contact with manufacturers and discussions with peers.

Between April 2016 and March 2017, I will increase my knowledge of the various forms of dysphagia and better understand the characteristics of each. I will complete this goal through journal review, webinar and discussions with colleagues.

Between April 2016 and March 2017, I will increase my knowledge of expanding recipes from a yield of 24 servings to 500 servings. I will increase this knowledge through book and online article review.